

my 3rd page

I already placed a big part of this here published text in the letter in the same form. Here again, I would like to take this opportunity to place additional information about me, to make your decision easier.

I have a secure knowledge in the areas of communications, multimedia components, as well as electronics and electrical engineering. Major parts of my soft skills are to find in personnel management, employee motivation and in project management experiences as well.

During my voluntarily active duty in the German Army I was responsible for the training the teaching of unskilled soldiers, for the organized employment and deployment of weaponsystem - components, maintainance and upkeeping of it, preparation and follow of military exercises, taking care of soldiers during the exercises (duty of a master seargent first class) and for monitoring the correct handling and following of the communication security policies. Further I had to monitor the air traffic, and in some exercise cases, to use policies of the air rules of engagement; a very responsible task.

Also during my vocational trainings, to become an electrician and a communication electronics, I have learned, besides the regular security guidelines (according to the VDE), the installation and settings of security devices (such as fire alarm and burglar alarm systems).

Due to the proximity of the stationing site close to Mexico and the spanish roots of my wife, I was able to teach myself a suficcient amount of spanish vacobulary. A temporarily use abroad wouldn't be problematic for me.

In the past, I teached myself a lot of new things that interested me. When I wasn't successful with just reading and trying to get things work, I always endeavored for courses and trainings (for example retoric seminars and Excel VBA).

I personally see my strenghts in my ability to cope different challenges, my willing to learn and my teamability;
and now I want to use my knowledges for your companys success.
